THURSDAY JULY 23, 2015

BREAKOUT SESSION 1: 11:30AM - 12:30 PM

Waste to Profit: Climate & Regenerative Capital

Breakout 1.1 Delegates Diningroom #1 (4th Floor)

Description: A solution to Jamaica's environmental problems? Meet the Lighthouse Project at Riverton. While typical cleanups see garbage back within a year, now waste can become valuable. How? "Regenerative Capital." Intercept 20% of the waste stream going to the dump and use it. Create jobs and foster greater sustainability.

Chris Lindstrom Co-Founder, Catalyst BioEnergy

Richard Powell Regional Director, Nexus Caribbean

Retu Jalhan Regional Coordinator, Nexus Caribbean

Chris Varrone President, Riverview Consulting

Power and the Powerless: Defending Vulnerable Workers

Breakout 1.2 Delegates Diningroom #2-3 (4th Floor)

Description: Learn about the struggles and movements of domestic workers of North America, the Dalits of India, and other vulnerable populations. We will ask how can donors most effectively use their political, media, financial and relationship access to move the needle and defend the vulnerable.

Alexander Soros Founder, The Alex Soros Foundation

Thenmozhi Soundararajan Transmedia Storyteller, #DalitWomenFight

Ai-jen Poo Director National Domestic Workers Alliance

Born to Give: Understanding Social Connection for Impact & Philanthropy

Breakout 1.3 Delegates Diningroom #4 (4th Floor)

Description: (IY Track) Building off the Nexus white paper, Born to Give, this session explores the latest research on what inspires young leaders and the science of generosity. More and more research says that the next-generation of leaders are hungry to give and they prefer to do so with people they care about and to causes they feel connected to. This session will explore why that is and how to leverage this information to support and inspire those you serve. Join for a bootcamp-style experiential workshop that will leave you with a refreshed perspective and evidence based practices to catalyze your impact.

Katie Greenman M.A., Co-Founder, Invest in Yourself at Nexus

Jon Gordon Culture Creation Specialist, UnCollege

How Is Your Communications Style Helping AND Hurting Your Family

Breakout 1.4 Conference Room E (Basement)

Description: Most family disagreements are not about the issues at hand, but rather how the information has been communicated in the first place. In Tom Rogerson's workshop attendees will be tested on their communication styles, which can be very insightful. Not only will the attendees learn about their own communication styles, but more importantly how to change their styles to enhance group decision making. Many will gain an understanding of past disagreements and are able to find ways to improve the future, just based on their styles of communication. Attendees will recognize leadership styles, appreciation of leadership styles, and will develop a strategy to work with all styles. The Interpersonal Leadership Style test will be administered.

Tom Rogerson Senior Managing Director, Wilmington Trust

THURSDAY JULY 23, 2015

BREAKOUT SESSION 1: 11:30AM - 12:30 PM

Health: Are We Under-Investing in the Things That Matter?

Breakout 1.5 Conference Room 11 (Basement)

Description: The world has made great strides in tackling major infectious diseases since the MDGs were launched in 2000. However, the majority of people are severely affected by non-communicable diseases (NCDs) and mental health issues. Tackling these issues requires systems-level primary care, prevention and behavior change efforts. This panel of experts across sectors will debate where future global health efforts should be focused.

Alex Amouyel Director of Program, Clinton Global Initiative
Robert Marten Sr. Program Associate, Rockefeller Foundation
Naina Dhingra Consultant, McKinsey
Shalini Unnikrishnan Principal, Boston Consulting Group

Impact Investing 101: Everything You Need to Know to Get Smart on it

Breakout 1.6 Conference Room 12 (Basement)

Description: Impact investing, an investing approach intentionally seeking to create both financial returns and positive social/environment impact that is actively measured, is frequently discussed but hard to conceptualize. Impact investing strategies target financial returns ranging from capital preservation to market-competitive, and a spectrum of social and environmental outcomes depending on sector, theory of change, business model, and target beneficiaries. This session will explore questions such as: What are examples of different impact investments (and what is not an impact investment)? What are the risks and challenges of making impact investments? What makes some impact investors/investments more successful than others?

Stephanie Cordes Vice-Chair, Cordes Foundation
Pablo Jenkins Founder, President, Ideas en Acción
Oliver Guinness Co-Founder & Managing Director, MOTIV
Josh Cohen Co-Founder & Managing Partner, City Light Capital
Jonathan Glencross Consultant, Purpose Capital
Abigail Noble Head of Impact Investing Initiatives, World Economic Forum

Nexus Impact Investing Rapporteur: Vanessa Grellet

Telling Our Own Stories: Using Storytelling to End State Violence and Injustice

Breakout 1.7 Conference Room 2 (Basement)

Description: Chinua Achebe wrote "Untill the lions have their own historians, the history of the hunt will always glorify the hunter." As we use storytelling as an anciently powerful medium to shift the consciousness of our hearts and the earth, we welcome our panelists to tell their story from their own perspective in a powerful and important transformation of our understanding of people, places, and moments of time that fight to end State Violence and describe the stories of humanity rising.

Christina Hollenback Communication & Outreach Chair, Dreaming is Different
Sabaah Jordan and Damon Davis Co-Directors, upcoming Ferguson documentary 'Whose Streets?'
Nusrat Durrani Executive Producer, Rebel Music; Senior Vice President and General Manager, MTV World
Travon Addison and John Harris Co- Founders, Bmore Certified

LUNCHTIME LABS

Limited Capacity Thematic Sessions

12:30 - 2:30 PM

Social Acupuncture: The Future of Conscious Humanitarianism

West Terrace (4th Floor)

Description: The humanitarians of the future will not limit themselves to philanthropy in siloed focuses. Instead, they will map out the web of contributing factors to reveal where they share the greatest interaction and incorporate conscious capitalism, social responsible investing, activism, spiral dynamics and technology alongside traditional philanthropy to create sustainable win-win solutions addressing both causal factors as well as outcomes. Globalization is harmful when interconnections are dismissed, but we can use those interconnections consciously with far reaching positive impact. Come learn how some leading humanitarians are already doing this today in the fields of international business, politics, technology, and more!

Mary-Ann Thompson-Frenk Co-Founder, President, Memnosyne Foundation

Lawrence Bloom Secretary, General of Be Earth Foundation

Kunal Sood Executive Director of Strategic Relations, Halo Drop

Adolfo Ayuso Audrey Mexico Director, European Union

Dr. Gray Keller Published Author, President, Leader Foundation

Mercedes Fernandez Executive Director, First Step Big Step

Joshua Raymond Frenk President, Club of Budapest Americas

1:15 - 2:15 PM

Criminal Justice Reform Lunchtime Lab

Conference Room E (Basement)

Description: Join us as we have an action oriented discussion on the opportunities to transform criminal justice systems and how all of the intersectional issues from educational and healthcare access, racial justice and human rights, immigration, and human sex trafficking can be transformed simultaneously.

Sabaah Jordan Co-Director of the upcoming Ferguson Documentary 'Whose Streets?'

Christina Hollenback Communication & Outreach Chair, Dreaming is Different

Jeffrey Deskovic Founder, The Jeffrey Deskovic Foundation for Justice

*Participants joining this lunchtime lab are encouraged to eat lunch at the U.N. Cafe on the Basement Level together from 12:30 - 1:15 PM.***

THURSDAY JULY 23, 2015

BREAKOUT SESSION 2: 2:30 - 3:30 PM

So You Have An Idea For A Non-Profit? Obtaining 501c3 Status: Benefits of Fiscal Sponsorship

Breakout 2.1 Delegates Diningroom #1 (4th Floor)

Description: Everyone has a BIG IDEA for the next great nonprofit to help change the world! But Starting and successfully running a nonprofit can be a daunting challenge. There are simple, efficient, cost-effective ways to do it right. In this session you will learn the plusses and minuses of your charitable options; how you can avoid costly legal fees and administrative nightmares with state and federal filing requirements and state fundraising registrations, etc. If you are thinking about doing good; why not do it right? This session can save you thousands of wasted overhead dollars and months of wasted time that you could otherwise devote to changing the world!! Invest an hour to save a thousand.

Marc Pollick Founder, President, Giving Back Fund

Women's Empowerment: What does it mean for the Millennial Generation?

Breakout 2.2 Conference Room 11 (Basement)

Description: Women are 10 times as likely to invest their earnings back into their families and communities than men; empowered women and girls can be the most influential forces to break the cycle of poverty in their communities. Join a discussion with three Millennial leaders who are innovating philanthropic models for supporting women and girls, or spearheading social entrepreneurial approaches to women's entrepreneurship and education. (Men encouraged to attend!)

Rahilla Zafar Business Development Consultant Wondros
Jackie Rotman Executive Director, SparkSF
Susan McPherson Founder & CEO, McPherson Strategies

Purpose In Connection: Initiation Into a World That Works for All

Breakout 2.3 Delegates Diningroom #4 (4th Floor)

Description: (IY Track) This experiential session explores the relationship between initiation and purpose. Nowadays it's no longer enough to understand our passions, talents, and values to have a sense of direction in life. Purpose is meaningful only when in relationship with others. Within all cultures are processes referred to as initiation, the regeneration of the "will to act". When we consider the current needs of our global societies and planet, we experience the need for more to be done for the greatest good of all. This call for a collective effort is a call for Initiation.

David Chang Co-Founder, On Purpose Network, Invest in Yourself at Nexus
Mary Ann Thompson-Frenk Resident/Co-Founder, Memnosyne Institute
Orland Bishop Founder, ShadeTree Multi-Cultural Foundation
Dr. Gray Keller Principal Thinker, Intentional Solutions

Impact Investing 201: Charting Your Course into Impact Investing (Across Asset Classes & Investment Institutions)

Breakout 2.4 Conference Room E (Basement)

Description: Impact investing enables individuals and families to be explicit about their shared values and reflect them in investment and wealth management decisions. An impact investing strategy aligned with family values can ensure a family's long run legacy as well as financial security. This session offers next gens an opportunity to explore the best practices, tools, frameworks and guidance from pioneers in working with their families on impact investing.

BREAKOUT SESSION 3: 11:00AM - 12:00 PM

Impact Investing 301: Move Your Assets: Divesting from the Past and Investing in the Future

Breakout 3.1 Conference Room E (Basement)

Description: Over the past few years, there have been a number of movements that are focused on divesting from the past and investing in the future. Examples include divestment from apartheid South Africa, tobacco companies, the fossil fuel industry and the private prison system. Through divesting, assets are unlocked to be invested in a new economy.

Jenna Nicholas Founder, Phoenix Global Impact

Bronwyn King Founder, Tobacco Free Portfolios

Daryn Dodson Private Equity and Venture Capital Consultant to Board of Directors, Calvert Fund

Nexus Impact Investing Rapporteur: Vanessa Grellet

The Modern Ally: Using the Tools of Today to End LGBT Discrimination

Breakout 3.2 Delegates Diningroom #2-3 (4th Floor)

Description: Almost every major social movement has been catalyzed by the involvement of non-affiliated allies. From suffrage to slavery, allies can be a powerful force in changing the perception of critical issues to the masses. Our panel will focus on the role of allies in helping to end discrimination towards the LGBT community. We will cover the power of celebrity, social media, and other important tools that are available to allies. Individuals, business owners, and donors/investors can effectively end discrimination and ensure full equality for our lgbt friends. Many allies have already gotten on board; we hope you will too....

Neil Pharaoh Director of Growth, Akilah Institute for Women

Hudson Taylor Founder & Executive Director, Athlete Ally

Breakout 3.6 Delegates Diningroom #1 (4th Floor)

Description: The intention of this session is to pull back the curtain from my ten years at Invisible Children and share my lessons learned and insights around the NGO + Donor relationship. In a Q&R (question and response) format, we will have a raw conversation around NGO leadership, the expectation of results and the sometimes difficult donor/organization relationship. Nothing is off limits.

Ben Keeseey Board Chair, Invisible Children

In conversation with: Lilia Luciano Co-Founder, Colnspire

Indigenous Leadership Talk Issues and Innovation: Chiefs, Non-Profit Leaders & Mediators Share Insights on Issues & Modalities that Will Empower You

Breakout 3.7

Conference Room 11 (Basement)

Description: Indigenous communities exist on all continents around the world and are often the first to experience the tangible impacts made by humanity's environmental, economic and societal influences. As survivors whose traditions take a pragmatic approach between the spiritual, social, financial, technological, and more, they have discovered solutions that can be applied to the larger world, yet are the most ignored voices of our time. While humanity has spent ages separating the sacred from the science, the sociological from the economical, they have continued to articulate how these things can't be considered separately if humanity is to survive. Learn why they are right and what this means for you!

Clint Missmore Outreach Ambassador, Nexus

Roberta Annan CEO, Founder, Roberta Annan Consulting LLC

Krupa Patel Co-Founder, Anza

Building Intentional Communities

Breakout 5.2 Delegates Diningroom #1 (4th Floor)

Description: Eco-village, kibbutz, ashram, commune: intentional communities are planned residential groups designed to promote greater social interaction. Members share resources and may hold common social, political, or spiritual vision. Do they offer a path to global sustainability?

Vladimir Megre Founder, Ringing Cedars Movement

Sonita Mbah Public Relations Officer, Better World Cameroon

Benjamin Von Mendelssohn Member, Tamera

Jonah Wittkamper Co-Founder, Nexus

Creating With The Future: Beyond the Doom and Gloom

Breakout 5.3 Delegates Diningroom #4 (4th Floor)

Description: (IY Track) For many, past and current world conditions weigh heavily on how and what we face as our future. Yet there are those who live within the changing currents of our world, at the edges of our cultures, and assert that the Future doesn't depend on the past - the Future creates the Future. This experiential session holds space for an exploration of how to create with the future. When our purpose becomes social and our self-interest evolves to include the interest of the other, we enter into a collaborative experience that leads to alternatives we couldn't perceive on our own.

David Chang Co-Founder, On Purpose Network, Invest in Yourself at Nexus

Orland Bishop Founder & Director: ShadeTree Multicultural Foundation

Breakout 5.4 Conference Room 2 (Basement)

Description: An industry driven by glitz and glamour, Fashion is the third most polluting industry in the world. Like other industries, fashion is seeking ways to engage all stakeholders to run more efficiently, maximize its impacts and attract the best talent. This panel will discuss how established and new organizations are using their platform as an instrument for sustainable development. As the millennial generation's curiosity on processes and the effects of decisions, old brands and new brands are challenging the ways in which traditional business has been done. Fashion savvy or not, we are all guilty by consumption. Everyone has a role to play whether or not you're in the industry. Come learn how to do your part.
